

Department of Professional Licensing

COVID-19 Frequently Asked Questions

Will DPL board meetings continue?

Yes.

Can the public attend or view the meeting?

No. Governor Andy Beshear has declared that all public meetings, of more than 10 people, are not allowed during the coronavirus outbreak. But, members of the public can view the meeting on the internet.

You can find a list of upcoming board meetings here: <http://dop.ky.gov>

Will licensure exams still take place?

Yes, exams will still take place. But, members of the public should confirm exam times with the board's administrator.

For a list of board administrators, click: <http://dop.ky.gov>

How can I find the latest information from the Department of Professional Licensing?

For the latest updates visit: <http://dop.ky.gov>

How can I find more information about Kentucky's response to COVID-19?

For more information about the Commonwealth of Kentucky's response to COVID-19, click: <https://kycovid19.ky.gov>

The Public Protection Cabinet (PPC) improves the lives of Kentucky citizens by ensuring high-quality professional services throughout the state. Through policy, licensing and regulation, the public protection cabinet advocates for Kentuckians with safety and integrity first. Though our agencies are diverse, we share one common goal--to provide outstanding customer service to every citizen and business that we serve.

Public Protection Cabinet
Office of the Secretary
500 Mero Street, 218NC
Frankfort, KY 40601
(502) 782-2736 | PPC.KY.GOV

